Books-to-movies reading challenge 2019

This year (as usual) many books are being turned into movies and adapted for television.

Challenge yourself to read some of the books before you see the film in the cinemas or on the television.

Come to reading group on Wednesday lunchtimes in the library to share your thoughts and hear other people's. You don't even have to have read the whole book to attend!

See overleaf for entry form...
