

HOW TO PLAN YOUR REVISION TIMETABLE

You will need:

- Your exam timetable
- A black pen
- A green pen
- A pen of a different colour
- A hi-lighter

1. Read your exam timetable and identify when the exams for each of your subjects are. Using your green pen, write these onto your revision timetable. Include the subject, length and the exam start time.
2. Look at your revision timetable and identify when your last minute revision will take place. Using your black pen, write down the subject/s you will be revising the day/night before an exam.

3. You must also make sure that you are planning rest days / time, where you have a complete break from revision. This tends to be a Friday night for most people. Using a hi-lighter shade out one day in each week, where you will not complete any revision and use as a rest day.
4. Using a different coloured pen, write down the subject/s you will revise on each of the days (except for the rest days) during the exam period.